

What?

An app where people can do quests based on their chosen category and earn achievement points and use those to buy real items that can be delivered to their address.

Why?

People tend to be lazy and unmotivated to get their work done, I want to create an app where people can be motivated to do their work in a fun and entertaining way.

For Who?

People who aren't motivated to do their work and need something motivate them.

I want to create a To DO App where users can pick categories and get quests based on them, after accomplishing quest they earn rewards. This app will motivate people who lack motivation to get their work done in a fun way.
